

And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb,
and by the word of their testimony...

On February 14th each year, we celebrate Valentine's Day. There is an exchange of cards, gifts, candy, flowers and all types of things that will let that “special someone” know how much we love and appreciate them.

Interestingly enough, one of the many symbols used on Valentine's Day to commemorate this love that we have for others is a heart. The heart is a vital organ that pumps blood through veins and arteries throughout the human body. In other words, human beings need a heart to live. Well, the right kind of heart is necessary for Christians to live the life God calls us to....a life of loving one another.

Let's look at 1 Corinthians 13 (Message) to see if we need a love transfusion:

- Love never gives up
- Love cares more for others than for self
- Love doesn't want what it doesn't have
- Love doesn't strut, doesn't have a swelled head, doesn't force itself on others
- Love isn't always “me first”, doesn't fly off the handle, doesn't keep score of the sins of others, doesn't revel when others grovel, takes pleasure in the flowering of truth, puts up with anything, trusts God always, always looks for the best, never looks back, but keeps going to the end.

How did you do? If you find that you are falling short, repent. If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness (1 John 1:9-KJV). 1 Corinthians 13:13 (Message) states, trust steadily in God, hope unswervingly, love extravagantly. And the best of the three is love.
